F. Russell Glasener-Economics Advisory Board Undergraduate Scholarship Application

F. Russell Glasener taught economics at ISU for almost a quarter century. He began his career at ISU in 1935, when the school was still known as Illinois State Normal University, and retired in 1959. While at ISU, he served as the first Secretary-Treasurer of the University Foundation and helped to organize the University Council, serving as its President for two years. Professor Glasener’s commitment to ISU and to economics education continued for almost three decades following retirement, until his death in Bloomington in 1987 at the age of 96.

In his memory, the F. Russell Glasener-Economics Advisory Board Undergraduate Scholarship was established to provide support to a worthy student in economics. The Economics Advisory Board provided additional financial assistance in endowing this scholarship

Value of Award: $500

Eligibility: Economics majors with between 75 and 90 hours of academic credit at the time of application. Preference will be given to applicants with a strong academic record. In addition, established financial need will be viewed favorably. Though a student may apply for both the F. Russell Glasener-Economics Advisory Board Scholarship and the Scott M. Elliott Scholarship, a student cannot be selected for both scholarships in the same academic year.

Instructions: Complete and submit this application to the Department of Economics (STV 425) by March 28. Please type or print the information requested.
